ADJOURN EARLY THIS MORNING

Will Dispose of Many Amendments and Meet at 9 O'clock—Final Vote on the Measure to Be Taken at 4 O'clock and Expect It

Washington, Sept. 8.—The senate will finally vote on the tariff bill tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This agreement was reached late tonight when it became apparent it was impossible to pass the measure before adjournment tonight. Party leaders agreed to keep the senate in session until well in the morning, disposing of many amendments still pending and then adjourn until 9 tomorrow morning.

The senate worked tonight, hoping to pass the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill before sunrise. The democratic leaders endeavored today, to suppress general speeches and force progress. Voting on the final important amendments began tonight.

Senator La Follette's general substitute for the wool tariff sections, introduced this afternoon, was defeated tonight 41 to 38.

Senator Dillingham's amendment to turn back each state's income tax for good roads, with the provision that each state appropriate a like amount, was lost.

Foreign books were returned to the free list, as originally provided by the house.

Senator Smoot moved to reduce the duty on out, but not set, diamonds, pearls and other precious stones, from twenty per cent to 10 per cent. He said that he would not object to high duty were it possible to collect and prevent smuggling.

The senator held in his hand eight pearls, which he said cost $78,000. The amendment was lost.

Senator Norris, progressive, called up his tax amendment proposing a tax on inheritance tax, graduated from 1 per cent on $50,000 up to 75 per cent on bequests exceeding $50,000,000.

Senator Clapp, progressive republican, said he would support the amendment, although he believed the time had come when the government should go further and not allow people of great wealth like the Astors "to take what does not belong to them or the people."

Senator Norris took the case of Vincent Astor to illustrate the effect of his amendment. The younger Astor, he said, did nothing to accumulate the fortune of $80,000,000 he received from his father.

"Under this proposed amendment," said Senator Norris, "the tax Vincent Astor would pay to the government would be $48,799,500. He would then have more than $30,000,000 tipped into his lap—a fortune made by millions of people of the United States, a fortune for the accumulation of which he did not sweat a drop, a fortune accumulated without an effort of his hand or brain. Such a tax would not be robbing Mr. Astor."

VETS WITNESS CEREMONY.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—Veterans of the Mexican war, the Civil war and the Spanish-American conflict as well as those who saw service in China and the island possessions, attended today the opening of the sixteenth annual encampment of the army and navy union. About 5,000 veterans are expected during the week.

A feature of the encampment will be a parade on Wednesday in which 10,000 uniformed men including the veterans, sailors and marines from the Philadelphia navy yard and a brigade of the national guard of Pennsylvania will take part.

Whirlwind Task of Six Paris Modistes Witnessed on Train

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Paris, Sept. 8.—Tubel travelers, who recently was astonished to see six young women hurriedly cutting and making a fashionable gown while riding in a tube train have learned that the unusual performance was the result of a wager that the modistes could not fashion a dress complete during a trip from the Porte d'Orleans station to the Porte d'Clignancourt, a twenty-minute journey underground. The design was submitted to the young dress makers as they boarded the train and as soon as they had

COURT ACQUITS JEROME; THEN MAKES APOLOGY

COURT REGRETS THE HUMILIATION

Counsel for Thaw Claims
That Irregularity in Proceedings of Immigration

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Cockfield, Que., Sept. 8.—William Travers Jerome was acquitted tonight of the charge of having gambled last Thursday on the station property of the Grand Trunk railway here while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. Discharging Jerome, the court apologized for the humiliation put on him.

Jerome stepped off the train from Montreal at noon, ready to appear in court this afternoon on a charge of gambling, on which he was arrested last week. A small crowd greeted him in silence.

Samuel Jacobs, K. C. of Montreal, chief counsel for New York state, accompanied Jerome. They alighted from the train almost directly beneath the window of the detention room, where Harry Thaw is held.

The crowd dispersed quickly and drifted toward the court house, where the hearing was set for 4 o'clock.

THAW FORGOTTEN.

Harry K. Thaw was temporarily forgotten by the townspeople of Cockfield today, and all paths led to the court house, where William Jerome had promised to appear this afternoon for a preliminary hearing on a charge of gambling. He was released last week under $500 bail, and with his departure for Montreal to make arrangements to oppose the habeas corpus on which Thaw is to be arraigned next Monday, many of those here antagonistic to him, remarked that "Jerome has jumped his bail. He'll never show his face in Cockfield again."

It was with considerable surprise therefore, that they heard Jerome's counsel had put his case forward today.

James McKee, the aged justice of the peace, who signed the warrant for Jerome's arrest and flayed him in court when Jerome did not appear at the first hearing, had no part in today's proceedings. He was superseded by a district magistrate, H. W. Mulvena, of Sherbrooke. Mulvena agreed yesterday to come here and preside. A. C. Hanson, joint crown prosecutor for the district, was in charge for the prosecution; Jacob Nicol, of Sherbrooke, crown prosecutor for the district, for the defense. This strange state of affairs developed out of Nicol's aiding the New York forces in getting Thaw out of the Sherbrooke jail. He has since been identified with the anti-Thaw interests and after denouncing Jerome's arrest as an outrage, volunteered to defend him. It has strained the relations between him and his associate, Hanson, but the latter had no alternative but to prosecute.

Milford Aldrich, the mill hand complainant against Jerome, got leave of absence for this afternoon, so that he could be in court. He said this morning that he had no sympathy with Thaw and had acted against Jerome because he thought it was his duty. "I got in a little trouble one time for playing cards in New Hampshire he confessed, and this will sort of even things up."

Thaw evinced great interest in the Jerome hearing, but could get little information from his guards. No one except his lawyers were allowed to see

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, Sept. 8.—News that Dominican gunboats were shelling the city of Puerto Plata, and endangering American lives and property caused hurry orders from here today to the cruiser Des Moines, at Guantanamo, Cuba. The cruiser had been preparing to go to Santo Domingo since reports of the latest revolution there, were received several days ago.

The cruiser is coaling today, and is expected to leave for Santo Domingo tonight. Communication between Puerto Plata and the outside world are cut off. Nothing has been received at the state department since the brief message today announcing the bombardment.

IN HAND OF REBELS.
Puerto Plata has been in the hands of the Dominican rebels ever since the latest revolution started with the announcement of the governor that the state had seceded from all allegiance to the central government.

The present danger to Americans and their property comes from the attempt of the Dominican government to force the rebel stronghold to capitulate. Until the receipt of today's dispatch, state department officials had not thought the flare-up would be serious. The supposed leader of the uprising is Hector Valesque, one time provisional president of the republic. The Dominican navy consists of two or three converted yachts, armed with six pounders and machine guns. They

SUFFOCATION EIGHT NEGROES BEING PROBED

Twelve Negroes, as Punishment for Laziness in Picking Cotton, Locked In Cell and Two-thirds of Them Were Smothered.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Richmond, Texas, Sept. 8.—The suffocation of eight negro convicts in an underground cell on the state prison farm Saturday night, today aroused an investigation, backed by the governor of Texas, the attorney general's department, the prison commission and police authorities.

Twelve negroes as a punishment for laziness in picking cotton, were locked in this cell over night Saturday. Its dimensions are about nine feet by seven by seven feet high. Its roof is double with air holes placed so that no two shall be opposite each other, in order not to admit light. There are six of these roof airholes and four in the floor, fed by pipes.

Many times before this cell had been used for confining several convicts at a time but with no fatal results. Saturday, however, was an unusually sultry day, one of the hottest of the summer throughout Texas with temperatures nearly everywhere 100.

At 8 o'clock Saturday night, according to Captain Blakely, manager of the prison farm here, the convicts in the dark cell called for water and a bucket full was passed into them, but after that nothing more was heard from them. Reports are conflicting as to whether there was a struggle in the cell. Wednesday has been set for the hearing of three guards arrested in connection with the investigation. C. W. Sweeton, assistant attorney general arrived here today to investigate personally for his department.

Bureau Announcement.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, Sept. 8.—The greatest quantity of cotton ever ginned in the season prior to September 1 was reported by the census bureau today when it was announced 794,006 bales of the growth of 1913 had been put out from the ginneries throughout the south. The heavy ginnings for the first period are the result of an early maturing of the crop and an effort by farmers to beat the boll weevil. In the opinion of census bureau officials.

All states reported an increased ginning for the period over last year's totals for that time with the exception of Texas and North Carolina. Last year to September 1 there had been ginned 5.4 per cent of the entire crop; in 1911 the quantity was 5 per cent. Peters' plurality over William R. Pattangall, democrat, is between two hundred and four hundred and fifty. The third district last November gave President Wilson a plurality of 7,359 over Taft and 1,360 over Roosevelt. The progressive vote showed a decrease of fifty per cent over last November. Edward M. Lawrence was the progressive candidate.

Mayor William R. Pattangall, of Waterville, democratic candidate for the office, had the assistance of Secretary of State Bryan in the closing hours of the campaign. The district is normally republican, being the old James G. Blaine district.

POLICE BAN ON SHOW SAID TO BE INDECENT

Magistrate Issues Warrants for Managers Who are Said to Have Reached Climax of Recent Tendency Toward the Decadent Drama.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Sept. 8.—Chief Magistrate McAdoo today decided to issue warrants for the arrest of leading persons connected with the production of two plays dealing with life in the underworld. The police department complained that these plays, chief scenes of which are set in houses of ill fame, are detrimental to public morals. Magistrate McAdoo attended one of the shows Saturday night and received evidence today regarding the other.

The warrants will be held in abeyance until tomorrow afternoon and it is still a question just how far the police will succeed in their efforts to stop these dramas. The plays in question, it is charged, mark the climax of the recent tendency toward decadent drama. Their authors and managers, however, contend that they are not indecent and that they teach a salutary lesson.

Magistrate McAdoo declared that the play he attended was "indecent and immoral and in part gross and revolting," and its production a violation of the penal law.

PLAY UNNECESSARY.

"Some people," he continued, "are so afraid of being considered finicky puritanical, old-fashioned and, above all, provincial, that they would rather be known as somewhat wicked, blasé, liberal and tolerant men of the world. This play is entirely unnecessary for any good purpose. If it had any moral lesson I failed to discover it. You might as well say that an author could write a book of 700 pages full of obscenity and filth and finish it by adding at the end a few moral maxims, such as 'be virtuous and you will be happy.' 'Honesty is the best policy'—and thus sterilize the preceding filth and convert the book into an instrument of moral betterment."

"The motive of this play is to make money," taking advantage of the present righteous indignation of the public against what is called white slavery."

City Commissioners Open

No Action.

CREMATORY FIRM MAKES PROPOSAL.

Two Others Propose Towing the Garbage to Sea and Dumping It, While Four Put In Bids for Carrying It to Points Outside City Limits and Supplying Dumping Grounds.

The board of city commissioners opened bids yesterday afternoon at their regular weekly meeting for the removal and disposal of garbage, but no award of the contract was made, as it will require some time for the commissioners to determine which bid is the most satisfactory. There were seven bidders, two of them offering to dispose of the garbage by dumping it in the gulf, four submitted proposals for dumping it on land outside the city limits and one made a proposition to cremate it. Owing to a large amount of other work, the commissioners did not take up the matter of considering the bids yesterday, but they will do so today and it is possible that they will arrive at a decision within the next day or two.

THE BIDDERS.

The following bids were received: R. J. Bowman—For the first three months, beginning October 1, $850 per month; for the last nine months, $1,050 per month, or a total of $11,400 for the

COTTON PRICE REACHES NEW HIGH RECORD

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Sept. 8.—The cotton market had a sationally active opening today with prices 44 points above Saturday's. There seemed to be a general rush to replace cotton which had been sold out on the break of last week. This big buying was attributed to the Washington news, indicating that the cotton tax bill had been amended to take effect on September 1, 1914.

Rumors that the senate would reconsider the amendment to the cotton tax bill and might just make it operative as soon as it should become a law, unsettled the market during the late forenoon while there was also some selling on reports of good rains in sections over Sunday.

The Washington rumors were soon denied, however, and prices almost immediately advanced again, selling 50 to 54 points above Saturday's closing in the early afternoon.

The talk around the ring as well as the action of the market suggested much confidence in high priced cotton this season should there be no interfering legislation and the trade seemed

CHAS. VILLAR'S GOLD IS WORTH ITS OWN WEIGHT

Finder of Spanish Treasure
In Bayou Chico Receives
Washington Advice.

INTENDS PUTTING SOME ON DISPLAY.

Pensacolians Will Have Opportunity of Seeing Some of the Money Taken from the Treasure Chest Found a Few Weeks Ago By Local Man.

Charles Villar, who found a variously estimated amount of Spanish money a few weeks ago, in Bayou Chico, has been advised in a letter from competent authorities in Washington that all the gold he came across is worth its own weight, or that he can dispose of it readily at market bullion prices. Mr. Villar did not receive any advice relative to the current face value of his gold, but he is satisfied that the weight and fineness are such that he was richly repaid for the necessary expense he incurred in getting the treasure from its longtime muddy bed.

Just as soon as pending arrangements can be closed up, Mr. Villar said he would place samples of his "find" on exhibition, saying some of the coins would be displayed in the show window of White & White, on Palafox street. Possibly a second display will be made.

Mr. Villar was relieved after he had consulted a lawyer relative to a statute which refers to a share of the finding of any treasure being retained by the state. This statute, Mr. Villar was informed, provided that in all cases of buried and unclaimed treasure being found that the state would take one-third or one-fourth of the same, hold that share for three or four years and advertise such fact. If there is no claimant at the end of such time, the portion held by the state reverts to the finder. Mr. Villar was told that this refers only to the finding of lawful money of the United States and not to foreign coin. All his find is foreign gold, silver and copper coin, some of it corroded to some extent.

UNCLE SAM AFTER THE PALMA TROPHY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Camp Perry, Ohio, Sept. 8.—The important Palma trophy match with teams representing the United States, Peru, the Argentine republic, Canada and Sweden, was opened on the 800-yard range here today.

It was the first time in the history of the Palma trophy that the United States has had the opportunity of defending it on its own soil.

The commission appointed to go over the scores at the request of Sweden, to see if a recount might not change the standing of that country's team in the international team match with free rifles, today reported that the first count stands. The United States is third and Sweden is fourth. The United States' narrow margin means the loss to Sweden of $300, offered as third prize.

At the end of the first stage of the Palma trophy match on the 800-yard range the United States and Canada were tied for first place, each with a score of 588 out of a possible 600. Other scores were: Argentine republic 587, Sweden 555.

Boston, Sept. 8.—From ducal halls to forecattle was the range of experience traveled by two Dartmouth college athletes, M. Arthur Myers of Chicago and George Reed, of Boston, who returned from England yesterday on the steamer Canadian.

The boys worked their way to England as cabinmen to take part in English athletic games. Their prowess in sports at Dartmouth, England, attracted the attention of the Earl of Dartmouth who, when he heard that they were from Dartmouth college, named for one of his ancestors, in-
